Published Every Weekday Afternoon.
 Subscriptions: One Year, $3; One Month, 25 cts.
 Single Copy, 1 cent.

Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Entered at the Postoffice at Barre as Second Class Matter.
 FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1906.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

3,885

Judging from the figures for the year, Burlington uses its poor well.

Mr. Tillman found seven other men in his "pitchfork brigade" yesterday, constituting an insufficient working force against 54 opponents.

Mr. Poulney Bigelow joins that ever-increasing army of "I refuse to answer" gentlemen. At any rate, Poulney has notable company with H. H. Rogers and such.

New Hampshire's latest contribution to the history of blood-curdling crimes is its worst, and the author of it was his own prosecutor, court and judge. His sentence was death.

Our optimistic neighbor, the Waterbury Record, passes out the tip: "Simply do your best and your troubles will be few." High financiers would like to amend by declaring: "Simply do your best friends."

And now another woman is after President Roosevelt, but her husband had the forethought to telegraph ahead to arrest her for being "demented." There'll be no repetition of the Mrs. Morris affair, let it be hoped.

Such marvels in figuring as H. H. Lewis, serving sentence for complicity in wrecking the Farmers' National Bank of Vergennes, and Marvin A. McClure, for a like offense with the Merchants' National Bank of Rutland, are keeping the books of the house of correction at Rutland. Pity the books.

It is what the Boston Evening Herald describes as a desire "for a chance to be supported at the public expense," the applications from sixty-three candidates for the positions of savings bank commissioners in Massachusetts. Those sixty-three applicants are only trying to play professional politics, and it's ten to one that sixty of the number are not fit for the office which they seek. Professional politics makes an easy living with no great outlay of gray matter or energy.

DIVIDING THE RESPONSIBILITY.

There has just been organized in Burlington an association of business men, whose purpose is the advancement of that city's interests. The organization seems to be complete in every way, even to the appointment of a score of committees; officers have been elected and the line of work mapped out in a general way. Thus does Burlington find itself agitating for some time, and the Burlington Commercial club should find plenty of opportunity to carry out its purposes. There is, however, the danger that once having formed the club the members may think their duties done. In public organizations of that nature the great majority of the members presume to think that with organization is the secret of self-movement; they believe that the skeleton of a formation, with a president, vice president, secretary and so on, means action.

Barre Savings Bank and Trust Co.

Another evidence of the confidence of the public in this Bank is the steady growth of business since organization twelve years ago, as shown by the following

Comparative Statement of Deposits
MARCH 1st.

1903	$1,848.30
1904	$1,072,892.40
1905	$1,149,687.39
1906	$205,024.54
1907	$232,539.79
1908	$320,534.36
1909	$404,971.00
1910	$487,291.77
1911	$623,522.22
1912	$746,867.50
1913	$829,459.31
1914	$1,171,043.57
1915	$1,230,378.24

3 1-2 per cent interest on savings. New accounts invited.

J. HENRY JACKSON, President.
 E. G. HOWLAND, Treasurer.

Therefore, they drop responsibility. Or what is just as bad, they turn over whatever responsibility they ever possessed to someone else, and the organization becomes a one-man or a two-man affair, living and breathing through the personality of that one man or the two men and dying out when the forces of his enthusiasm shall have spent itself. It is the reason for the failure of too many of these well-laid schemes that too much reliance is placed on the few, and the shirkers slouch back and wait for the others to do something.

In this Burlington organization, however, the work seems to have been planned with a view to the prevention of this difficulty, if possible. In order to do this, the various departments of the work have been divided into numerous branches, each a separate organization of itself. There are finance committees, committees on legislation, on new industries, on public improvements, on industrial exhibitions, etc. In fact, every phase has apparently been provided for. With this formation, with its various branches extending into all lines of activity, Burlington should be benefited. But all the time this danger should be guarded against—the danger of letting the responsibility fall upon the comparatively few.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Got His.

"There is only one ordained missionary in the world for 900,000 heathens, your Excellency," said the cannibal chief, rubbing his lips.—Yonkers Statesman.

A Rumor Confirmed.

The Nuritch family had reached Copenhagen.

"Town smells kinder queer," commented Maw Nuritch.

"I ain't surprised," asserted Paw Nuritch. "Allers heard there was aught rotten in Denmark."—Minneapolis Tribune.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

Miss Helen Kimball of Richmond is visiting friends here.

Eugene Marshall and family of Braintree are visiting friends in the village.

Tracy Jeffords, Esq., and his daughter, Miss Elizabeth of Washington, D. C., are in town.

Mrs. Charles Erskine is improving a little, being able to sit up and walk a little each day.

The basketball team will play the Eagles of Montpelier Saturday evening at the town hall.

The high school girls have formed a basketball team, with Miss Sadie Fifield as manager and Miss Louie Seaver as captain.

Charles Briggs was elected treasurer of the Grange to fill the place left vacant by the death of Charles Erskine, who held that office for many years.

Miss Mattie Holt, who is attending school at Randolph Center, slipped on the ice while returning from school and fell, breaking one bone in the arm just above the wrist.

The St. Johnsbury Republican speaks in glowing terms of the artistic excellence of Miss Alice Leitch, soloist, who is to assist in the Gillingham meetings to be held in this place.

When Mr. and Mrs. Jason Johnson and grandsons were returning from a visit to Richmond, their horse became unmanageable and ran, overturning the sleigh and throwing the occupants to the ground. The boy held onto the horse and was dragged some distance. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were severely bruised.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Jeffords celebrated their golden wedding at their home Wednesday afternoon and evening. All their children, Russell, Hayden and Frank of Williamstown; Tracy from Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Mary Heath of Barre, with their children, were present. Friends and relatives in large numbers came to wish this couple, who had reached the golden mile stone, God speed on the rest of their journey along life's road. There were many valuable and beautiful presents. An oyster supper was served in the afternoon and in the evening ice cream and cake. The occasion was pronounced by those attending as most enjoyable.

NOTICE RELATING TO CORPORATIONS AND CHARTERS.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to No. 90, Acts of 1904:

1. That all corporations organized under the laws of Vermont, except as herein otherwise provided, are, on or before March 1, 1906, by No. 20, Acts of 1903, required to pay to the state an annual license tax, and to make returns therefor to the state treasurer, and to this department.

2. That if a corporation subject thereto shall refuse or neglect to pay all annual license taxes then due and to make proper returns therefor on or before April 1, 1906, it shall then cease to exist.

3. That one or more of the incorporators named in the charter granted by the general assembly, under which no organization has been effected, are, on or before March 1, 1906, by No. 20, Acts of 1904, required to pay to the state a tax, and to make returns therefor as hereinbefore specified.

4. That if all of the said incorporators or signers shall refuse or neglect to pay the taxes then due, and to make returns therefor on or before April 1, 1906, such charters or articles of association, as the case may be, will then become null and void.

5. That corporations organized solely for charitable, religious or educational purposes, and cemetery associations are not subject to such taxes.

6. That none of the incorporators named in a charter, or signers of articles of association, are subject to said taxes if a corporation formed thereunder will be limited solely to charitable, religious or educational purposes, or to a cemetery association.

7. That blanks for returns may be had upon application to the undersigned.

Side Lights on History.

Herbert Spencer had evolved the law of "the survival of the fittest." "Still," he said, "I can't explain on any hypothesis that occurs to me just now, why the ichthyosaurus, the pterodactyl, and the megatherium have become extinct, while the fies, the German carp and the English sparrow continue to afflict mankind."

Reflecting, however, that these meditations were out of order when formulating a scientific theory, he forbore to incorporate them in his published works.—Chicago Tribune.

A Delicate Mechanical Feat.

An expert tool juggler in one of the great English needle factories in a test of skill performed one of the most delicate mechanical feats imaginable. He took a common sewing needle of medium size (length one and five-eighths inches) and drilled a hole through its entire length from eye to point, the opening being just large enough to admit of the passage of a very fine hair.

He Made Sure.

A story is told of the Sudan railway which shows patient literalness. To an official there came the telegram from an outlying station: "Station master has died. Shall I bury him?" The reply was sent: "Yes; bury station master, but please make sure he is really dead before you do so." In due time back came the message: "Have buried station master. Made sure he was dead by hitting him twice on the head with a fish plate." There was perfect assurance that there had been no premature burial.

JANUARY 17, 1706

Benjamin Franklin, "the first great American," was born. Throughout a long and eventful life he preached the gospel of THRIFT. He studied always to better the condition of mankind.

DO YOU RECALL HIS PITHY SAYINGS?
 "A penny saved is two-pence clear. A pin a-day is a great a-year. Save and have."
 "If you know how to spend less than you get, you have the philosopher's stone."

"Every little makes a mickle."
 "Industry, Perseverance and Frugality make Fortune yield."

"Beware of little expenses, a small leak will sink great ship."
 "The Art of getting Riches consists very much in THRIFT."

THE SAVINGS BANK
 of today preaches the same gospel of THRIFT. It encourages the wage earner, the clerk, the farmer, the business man to save a portion of his income. It encourages the opening of the Small Account.

FUNERAL OF MISS REILLY.

Held from St. Sylvester's Church, Graniteville, Today.

Graniteville, Jan. 19.—It is with deep sorrow we record the death of Miss Mamie Reilly, who passed away on Wednesday morning, Jan. 17, at the age of 16, after an illness of six months. Her remains were laid to rest in St. Monica's cemetery at Barre. Rev. Fr. Daignault conducted the funeral at St. Sylvester's church. It was attended by an uncommonly large number of sorrowing friends and neighbors. Mamie Reilly was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Reilly of Graniteville and was an excellent young lady. She was of a very kind and affectionate disposition, and gained for herself a large circle of friends in the neighborhood, who now extend their heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing family, who are left behind to mourn for her. We sincerely trust that the all-wise Father who made the wound in their hearts may heal it in His own good time.

So we tenderly laid her away today, Aye, we laid her away to rest; To await us there in that heaven above, In that beautiful home of the blest.

The floral tributes were: Wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Pirie; Mr. Finnegan, white carnations; pink and white carnations and fuschias; Maggie; white lily and carnations; Mr. Finnegan; carnations and ferns; Will; carnations, white, pink and red; George; W. O. O. F., white roses; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fitzpatrick, white carnations; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Morrison, white carnations and ferns; Mrs. McIntyre, carnations and ferns; Mrs. Cary, carnations and ferns; John Leonard, white carnations; white and pink carnations; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reilly; anchor of calla lily, white carnations, forget-me-nots and pansies; Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. James K. Pirie, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Pirie, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. T. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. ## The Weaver Bird.

The first clothmaker was the weaver bird, which, from threads and vegetable filaments, manufactures a fabric quite waterproof and of very dense structure.

Eyeless Worms.

Worms that have no eyes are believed to gain information of the presence of light from some other sense than that of sight. Light is always dangerous to an earthworm, and when taken from the earth and placed in the light a worm will always exhibit uneasiness and make an effort to conceal itself.

Coral Reefs.

The coral flowers, so called, are animals. A coral reef resembles a bed of anemones.

The Australian Sword.

The Australian sword found in use among the aborigines when that country was first discovered by Europeans was modeled after the sword grass which grows wild in that continent.
